'Gladstone" Allison has Run his Race Although three or four days have elapsed since the grave closed over E. Campbell Allison, the news that that amusing character has gone to his last account will be read with surprise by thousands of persons in this and other cities who knew him well. For some years Allison had been one of the most amusing characters of New York, and was known far and wide as "the man with the Gladstone picture," because of his getting himself photographed in ALEXANDRIA FERRY.

A native of Uniontown, Pa., his first appearance in public that the world has any record of was as the author of a pamphlet history of the Duke murder case, which occurred in his town about ten years ago. He made his first money from this venture and then went to Washington as reporter for a Pittsburg casily, newspaper. His family connections in You Pennsylvania were of the very best, and Allison always claimed to be relat-ed to James G. Blaine and Senator Allison. He was so persistently cheeky in looking over the shoulders of other correspondents to find out what they were writing that some of them determined to play a trick on him which should effectually improve his VERY BEST TEETH (full set), . manner. One of the correspondents prepared a bogus dispatch, describing an altercation between President Ar-thur and Secretary Frelinghuysen, and left it on his desk. Allison discovered it and read it through. Then he added come comments of his own and sent it to his paper in Pittsburg, where it was published the following day. It cre-

that Allison won for himself the name of "The Man with the Gladstone Picture." It was on the occasion of the presentation to Mr. Gladstone of the testimonial sent to him from this country, and a distinguished company had gone to the statesman's country seat to take part in the ceremonies. Allison smuggled himself in with a photo-
